the handbook systematically charts the trajectory of the english novel from its emergence as the foremost literary genre in the early twentieth century to its early twenty first century status of eccentric eminence in new media environments systematic chapters address the english novel as a distinctly modern genre' the novel in the economy genres gender performativity masculinities feminism queer and the burden of representation' class and ethnicity extended contextualized close readings of more than twenty key texts from joseph conrad s heart of darkness 1899 to tom mccarthy s satin island 2015 supplement the systematic approach and encourage future research by providing overviews of reception and theoretical perspectives reading by numbers recalibrating the literary field is the first book to use digital humanities strategies to integrate the scope and methods of book and publishing history with issues and debates in literary studies by mining visualising and modelling data from austlit an online bibliography of australian literature that leads the world in its comprehensiveness and scope this study revises established conceptions of Australian literary history presenting new ways of writing about literature and publishing and a new direction for digital humanities research the case studies in this book offer insight into a wide range of features of the literary field including trends and cycles in the gender of novelists the formation of fictional genres and literary canons and the relationship of Australian literature to other national literatures this book was written to venture beyond interpretations of Cormac McCarthy's characters as simple antinomian and non psychological and of his landscapes as unrelated to the violent arcs of often orphaned and always emotionally isolated and socially detached characters as McCarthy usually eschews direct indications of psychology his landscapes allow us to infer much about their motivations the relationship of ambivalent nostalgia for domesticity to McCarthy's descriptions of space remains relatively unexamined at book length and through less theoretical application than close reading by including McCarthy's latest book this study offer the only complete study of all nine novels within McCarthy studies this book extends and complicates a growing interest in space and domesticity in his work the author combines a high regard for McCarthy's stylistic prowess with a provocative reading of how his own psychological habits around gender issues and family relations power books that only appear to be stories of masculine heroics expressions of misogynistic fear or antinomian rejections of civilized life
